

Conservator Nash Preparing Plan For Reopening of Bank

Plan Not Accepted By Banking
Authorities But Modified Plan
Under Consideration Today.

Within G. Nash, conservator of the National Under County Bank and Trust Company, returned from New York Wednesday where he had been in consultation Tuesday with the Federal Banking authorities relative to a plan for the re-opening of the bank which has been operating on a restricted basis since the recent banking holiday. Following his return a meeting of the board of directors was held.

Certain modifications to a re-opening plan proposed at the Tuesday meeting in New York have been worked out by Mr. Nash and today he returned to New York for further conference with the Federal authorities. The plan proposed at the Tuesday meeting in New York was not entirely satisfactory and certain modifications have been made. It is the desire of Mr. Nash to re-open the bank for business just as soon as possible but not until sound re-adjustments have been made for future security to patrons.

Mr. Nash, former vice-president of the Irving Trust of New York city, now retired to his farm at Lomontville, was appointed conservator of the National Under County Bank and Trust Company a few days after the bank failed to re-open at the expiration of the national banking holiday. This was the only bank in Ulster county which failed to re-open with full banking facilities since the holiday. As conservator of the bank Mr. Nash has expressed his hope that the bank may resume activities shortly, although Wednesday afternoon he could express no opinion as to when activities could be resumed but he said that he hoped that his visit to New York today would result in approval of the modified plan so that the bank might shortly resume business.

As conservator Mr. Nash is charged with the duty of "conserving" the assets and protecting the property of the bank for the benefit of its depositors and customers so that there will be no loss or at least a minimum of loss. Naturally this is a big job with considerable work attached to the development of some suitable plan. Time must be taken in developing such a plan as there are many matters to be considered before business can be resumed.

Depositors have expressed confidence in the ability of Conservator Nash to straighten out the difficulties in a proper manner and re-open the bank within a reasonable time.

Until the bank is re-opened for full business it continues to operate under restrictions. Deposits are accepted in number two accounts and checks may be drawn against these accounts.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Nash stated that as soon as a plan had been worked out and approved for the re-opening of the bank announcement would be made of that fact.

RELIEF DEMONSTRATORS TURNED BACK TO HOMES

Ottawa, Ill., April 6 (AP).—Eleven hundred unemployed relief demonstrators en route to the state capital at Springfield were turned back towards their homes today by a barrage of tear gas. Most of them were from Chicago.

Eleven of the demonstrators, including Karl Lockner of Chicago, chairman of the Unemployed Council, were arrested after a fight in a quagmire of mud on a tourist camping ground where they had spent the night.

The police said some of the unemployed attempted to fight back with clubs and rocks, but none was injured seriously.

INVITATION TO MACDONALD EXPECTED TO BE SENT SHORTLY

Washington, April 6 (AP).—A formal invitation to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to visit President Roosevelt here is expected to be dispatched shortly to London.

While State Department officials declined to comment, the likelihood developed after a conference between President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull and Under Secretary Phillips.

The British prime minister is planning to leave for this country on a hurried trip about April 15 to discuss world economic and disarmament problems with the President.

BEER WILL BE SERVED IN THE EXECUTIVE MANSION

Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Governor Lehman made known today that he intends to serve beer in the executive mansion after the 3.2 law becomes legal at midnight.

"Certainly," the Governor replied promptly when newspapermen asked him today whether beer will be served at the official residence of the Governor.

ST. LOUIS PLAYS GALA BEER CELEBRATION TONIGHT

St. Louis, April 6 (AP).—Gala celebrations are planned in St. Louis tonight for the return of beer.

"Watch parties" will be held at hotels and night clubs, whistles and sirens of breweries will signal the dropping of legal barriers, and barrels and cases of beer immediately will begin moving from the plants on their way to retail channels.

Tax Commissioner Answers Questions On Beer Situation

By MARK GRAYES
(President, New York Tax Commission)

Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—For the information of those who are confused by the beer situation in New York state, the tax commissioner has prepared the following questions and answers:

Q—What is beer within the meaning of the law?

A—It includes beer, lager beer, ale, porter and similar beverages which do not contain more than 3.2 per cent alcohol. It also includes near-beer.

Q—What is the rate of tax on the sale of beer?

A—3-1/2 cents per gallon or about $1.00 a barrel.

Q—Who must pay the tax?

A—Distributors.

Q—What is a distributor?

A—Any person or corporation which brings beer into the state, or manufactures it within the state.

Q—Must a distributor be registered?

A—Yes, with the state department of taxation and finance in Albany.

Q—Can a distributor sell beer without first registering?

A—No, he must register first.

Q—How may one register to sell beer after midnight tonight?

A—By filling out the tax department, stating name, address and whether applicant is brewer, importer or retailer.

Q—Must a distributor file a bond?

A—Not at present, although bonds later may be required.

Q—What records must beer sellers keep?

A—Distributors must keep records of gallons made or brought into state; all sales, showing to whom, when and how much. Retailers must show how much purchased, when, from whom.

Q—How and when is tax paid?

A—Every distributor must each month file a return with the tax department, showing number of gallons sold preceding month and pay the tax less one per cent allowed the distributor on account of services and expenses.

Men Jacking Up Wood's Residence

Planning to Have Store Under House
—Mr. Wood Is Giving Work to Men From Workers Cooperative
Association—Many Watch Proceedings.

A. W. Wood for some time has been considering having his residence on Washington avenue at the foot of North Front street raised so as to give him better facilities for a store on the ground floor. When he learned that the Workers Cooperative Association was planning a drive to secure work for its members he signed one of the pledge cards to give men a certain amount of work.

As a result he has a force of about 20 men from the association who started the work on Monday by jacking up the house from its foundations. The work is in charge of James Hicks, a local carpenter, and is progressing rapidly. The house is being raised about three feet higher. As the walls of the house are brick-lined the job to jack it up is not as easy as it would appear but today the house had been jacked to the required elevation, and work will be started in building up the foundation to the required height.

The work of jacking up the house is being watched daily by many interested persons and is being done with some of the equipment that was used by the late John Crispell of Hurley. In his day Mr. Crispell was well known as a mover of buildings.

Gold Hoarders To Face Heavy Fine

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Gold hoarders have about $1,000,000,000 in metal and gold certificates. President Roosevelt wants this turned back to the banks by May 1 or the government will take action.

His executive order which placed the national gold supply under a license system to carry out legitimate trade needs, directs those holding more than $100 in gold or gold certificates to give it up promptly.

If they don't, they face a penalty of a $10,000 fine or ten years in prison or both.

At the treasury it was said that since the national bank holiday was proclaimed there had been no demand for gold, but the amount still tucked away by hoarders was unduly large. On Mr. Roosevelt's behalf it was said that the chief purpose of his action was to restore to the nation's reserve all the gold that remains hidden.

The President's order authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue licenses for obtaining gold for industrial requirements, exportation for trade and other legitimate needs. The unlicensed gold must come in before May 1.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Summary receipts for April 4 were $8,197,142.76; expenditures $18,794,109.27; balance $456,921,367.85. Customs duties for four days of April were $2,351,162.34.

State Prepares for Convention Vote on Repealing of Dry Law

Mid-Summer Convention Planned To Vote on Repeal of 18th Amendment—100 Delegates Suggested.

Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—New York state was preparing today for a mid-summer convention to ratify repeal of the 18th amendment, with the Buckley Bill for election of 150 delegates-at-large lying before Governor Lehman for his signature.

Under the terms of the Buckley measure, New Yorkers will elect their delegates May 23, using a "horse blanket" ballot nearly four feet long. The plan bears out Governor Lehman's suggestion that a convention of delegates chosen at large would solidify the state's repeal sentiments, whereas if delegates were chosen from local districts the chances of a vote for repeal might be weakened.

The convention will be at the state capital June 27. A proposal to delay the choice of delegates until the general election next fall, and thus delay the convention, was turned down on the ground that in crowded New York city election districts there would not be time at the general election for each voter to vote for the 150 delegates in addition to regular candidates.

Republican assemblymen shifted their support to the Buckley bill—Democratic measure—late yesterday after they had witnessed the defeat of their own bill. This was the Sargent bill, calling for election of three delegates from each of the 51 senatorial districts and 51 at large, or a total of 204. The bill was defeated by a vote of 80 to 66.

The Buckley bill, previously passed by the senate, was put through the assembly by Republican support by a vote of 107 to 53.

The assembly also passed, with cheers for the veteran "wet" Assemblyman, Louis Culliver, New York Democrat, Culliver's bill which would limit the number of delegates to 47, the same number as the state's electoral delegates. If the senate passes this bill, it will also go to Governor Lehman.

CREATOR OF CHARLIE CHAN DEAD OF HEART DISEASE

Pasadena, Cal., April 6 (AP).—Earl Derr Biggers, creator of Charlie Chan, a Chinese detective who captured the imagination of readers of fiction, is dead, a victim of heart disease.

Biggers, author of "Behind that Curtain," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Black Camel," and numerous novels, was stricken a week ago at Palm Springs, near here. He died yesterday at a Pasadena hospital.

He wrote in an obscure downtown office but his work was among the best known of modern novelists. Biggers was born in Warren, Ohio, August 24, 1884. He attended Harvard University and as a student sold short stories to magazines. A year after his graduation in 1907 he joined the editorial staff of the Boston Traveler, first conducting a humorous column and later becoming a dramatic critic. In addition to his novels, Biggers wrote plays.

BESMERS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Oscar Besmer, 44, of West Hurley and his nephew, Benton Besmer, 19, of 16 Post street, Kingston, were arrested Wednesday by Troopers Coons and Metzger, Oscar being charged with assault in the third degree and Benton with disorderly conduct.

Benton was released on a $500 bail, to await a hearing before Justice Charles R. Tiller of West Hurley. Oscar was still held at the Ulster county jail this morning until he could furnish bail of $100. He will have a hearing before Justice Leonard Lockwood of Hurley. The two were arrested on complaint of Mrs. Oscar Besmer, who claimed that they assaulted her.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Quirk of Accord, a son, Donald, April 2, at the Kingston Hospital. Dr. J. B. Koon was the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roach of the town of Ulster, twin sons, John A. and Charles, 1, at the Benedictine Hospital. Dr. F. E. O'Connor was the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Booth, 49 St. James street, a son, Burdett Walter, April 2. Dr. L. E. Sanford was the attending physician.

So Big Catch Reported
Shelton, April 6.—With the trout season nearly a week old, no big catches have been reported in this part of the reservoir country. The week, which were pretty high last week, have run down rapidly during the past two days and present prospects are that with a little warmer weather there will be first rate fishing here over the coming week-end.

Five Days For Complaints.

Recent Complaints, 15, of West Hurley, was committed to the Ulster county jail Wednesday by Justice Lester S. Davis, to serve five days on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Depression Hit Hunters' Pockets

Approximately 4,000 Less Hunting and Fishing Licenses Issued in Ulster County Last Year Than Preceding Year—This Year Expected to Average Same as Last.

Old Man Depression evidently hit the pocketbooks of the hunters and anglers of Ulster county during the past two years, judging from the records of the county clerk's office, which show that there was a decrease of approximately 4,000 in the number of licenses issued in 1932 as compared with the number issued in 1930 and 1931.

During the year 1930 when the license fee was $1 the county turned over to the state conservation commission approximately $12,700, while in 1931, when the fee had been increased to $2, the county turned over approximately $31,000.

Last year the county turned over to the state approximately $22,000. During 1932 there were 10,351 resident fishing and hunting licenses issued and 31 non-resident licenses, a total of 10,382. There were also 122 non-resident angling licenses issued and 1,334 deer licenses.

The records show that up until the first of April last year there had been 375 licenses issued and this year for the same period there had been 378 licenses issued, an increase of three.

MR. CANFIELD EXPOUNDS THE FEDERAL BEER LAW

Many inquiries have been directed to former Mayor Canfield as to what action is required to legally permit anyone to sell beer at retail as he was formerly prohibition director of the state and special counsel to the U. S. Treasury Department. Attorney Canfield stated today that before a person can legally sell beer at retail to the consumer he must register with the state and obtain a retailers license from the federal government. He pointed out that when Congress amended the National Prohibition Act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and wine of 3.2 alcoholic content, it did not repeal the old Internal Revenue laws requiring licenses.

Therefore, any person who intends to sell such beer must apply to the Collector of Internal Revenue of the District for a retailers license or permit. The tax or fee for such a license is $20 and under the present treasury rules it may be paid in four installments. Under the Internal Revenue law such license must be displayed in a conspicuous place where the beer is sold.

In addition, such retailers must register with the State Department of Taxation and Finance at Albany. There is no special application form and a letter is sufficient. No fee or charge is provided for this registration. The retailers must then keep complete records to show from whom he purchases the beer with the dates and quantity of each purchase. No other action is required and any person may legally sell such beer after midnight if he complies with these two requirements.

CONNECTICUT HOLDS UP SALE OF 3.2 PER CENT BEER.

Hartford, Conn., April 6 (AP).—Connecticut, which refused to ratify the 18th amendment and which voted more than 5 to 1 last November to petition Congress for repeal, will not permit the sale of 3.2 per cent beer when it becomes legal under the federal law.

The general assembly adopted a bill yesterday holding up the flow of the brew until April 25, when it is hoped legislation for state regulation will be in force.

City Ambulance Calls.

The city ambulance on Wednesday conveyed to the Kingston Hospital William Lynch of 328 South Wall street. Mrs. Sarah Pfommer of 59 Wurts street, and James Wheeler of 39 Van Deusen street.

Beer Will Become Legal In 19 States

(By The Associated Press)
A large part of the country goes off the near beer standard at 12:01 a. m. 19 states, tomorrow.

In 19 states and the District of Columbia sale of beer containing 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight (4 per cent by volume) becomes legal at that time.

Brewers in some of these states plan to deliver beer as soon as it becomes legal. Others, ruling out justice parties at midnight, say beer will not be delivered much before breakfast time.

The 19 states in which beer becomes legal at 12:01 a. m. are Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington and Wisconsin.

Six other states have set specific later dates for the turn of the beer spigots. They are Louisiana, April 15; Vermont, May 4; North Carolina, May 1; Wyoming, May 15; West Virginia, June 9; and North Dakota, July 1. Still others have proposed pending to legislate beer.

The regulations vary as to where and how beer can be sold. The price is expected to vary also in different places of sale. One price quoted frequently in New York was $1.50 wholesale for a case of 24 bottles.

Famous Finger Lakes Wines Prepared For Use Under New Law

Thousands of Gallons of Wine, All
More Than Ten Years Old, Will
Be Decolored to Meet Present Law.

Naples, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Thousands of gallons of aged, well-known wines from the famous Finger Lakes cellars will be decolored to meet the requirements of the 3.2 per cent law effective tomorrow.

Some of the casks and bottles are covered with the dusts of 32 years. None of the wine is younger than 10 years. It is estimated 500,000 gallons are stored away.

Several of the cellars of the Finger Lakes region are more than 100 years old. Operations of New York families minded the vineyards on the sunny slopes of central New York.

When prohibition came, many owners and operators of the great wineries closed their doors and placed their stock under government bond.

An immediate supply of wine of legal content is assured through perfection of a method to decolorize old vintages to the point to meet present day restrictions.

Meanwhile the prospect of a market for new vintage wine has set the wine-making machinery of the Finger Lakes region hard at work.

Throughout a large territory where grape growing and wine making has been the most important industry for a century or more, the legalization of 3.2 wine means not only a manifold increase in business but restoration of the industry which slowed to an almost complete standstill with the advent of prohibition.

BELEIVE SCHOOL STRIKE WAS TOUCH OF SPRING FEVER

Chicago, April 6 (AP).—The city's strike of the school boys and girls was nothing more than a slight touch of the spring fever, officials believe.

They said they expected no recurrence of a student strike that affected five high schools yesterday, and which was characterized by the "strikers" as a protest in behalf of their teachers, whose salaries have long been overdue. Some of the instructors themselves described the movement as nothing much more than a premature outburst of the spring practice of playing "hooky."

Approximately 14,000 pupils walked out of five schools. At Crane Junior College two agitators were expelled for activities in fomenting the strike there.

In a few elementary schools there were minor walkouts but later in the day indignant parents put a stop to this.

The strike was only a part of a turbulent day that marked the high spot in recent city school activities.

11 FISHERMEN DEAD IN SQUALL AT HARBOR BAR

Honolulu, Wash., April 6 (AP).—Wreckage of numerous small fishing boats scattered along the beach today marked the path of a sudden spring squall which took the lives of at least 11 fishermen on the treacherous Grays Harbor Bar.

The storm struck with savage fury late yesterday afternoon into the midst of the salmon trolling fleet as it was putting out to sea. Watchers saw seven of the little craft capsizing, burning their crews into the water. About 50 of the fleet, made up of 100 men in all, made their way across the bar successfully, while the other turned back to Westport, their base.

Spain Was Interested.

William Ryan, 45, of Kingston, was given five days in the Ulster county jail by Justice Charles H. Bennett, on a public intoxication charge.

CANFIELD BELIEVE IN ADVERTISING PROGRAM

A representative of the Canfield Supply Company stated today that the company believes in advertising and considers the newspaper the best medium of reaching the public and through the so-called depression or hard times, they have carried on a consistent policy of advertising in The Freeman and as a result of this have sold in the month of March, just closed, more Thor Washers and Thor Ironers than in any month in its history.

The Canfield Company has been located at the same address at 16 Strand for 38 years and they advise they expect to use The Freeman consistently.

Government Starts Enrolling 25,000 Men For Work in Forests

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Twenty-five thousand unemployed men in 17 large cities were being selected today as the first members of President Roosevelt's conservation corps for work in the national forests.

Recruiting of additional jobless will be done in other cities as soon as government agencies can complete machinery for one of the largest peace-time mobilizations ever undertaken in this country.

Some of the men may start for conditioning camps late today, but most of the 25,000 will go Friday and Saturday. After two weeks in the military centers the recruits will be sent to the tented camps in national forests and parks. They will work a maximum of 40 hours and five days a week on the various projects involved in conservation work.

Official city and state agencies which already have lists of unemployed men were charged with enrolling the recruits today, picking unmarried men between 18 and 25. The agencies will notify each man personally of his selection and he must be willing to share a substantial part of his $30 a month pay with dependent relatives. There will be no public registration of jobless seeking work until after this first class has been taken care of.

The second selection of men will be begun before the end of the week. From 25,000 to 50,000 men will be taken at frequent intervals with President Roosevelt hopeful of having 250,000 on duty by July 1.

Forests in the south and east will receive the first men, southern forests being favored because of warmer weather.

The first work camp is expected to be established in George Washington National Park near Luray, Virginia.

Representatives of state governments were called to meet with Secretary Wallace today to outline any additional projects that might be undertaken in state and private woodlands to increase the number of employed. These discussions centered around forest fire protection work.

Teachers Must Pay State Income Tax

Albany, N. Y., April 7.—Employees of New York state and of all the municipalities of the state, including school teachers, are subject to tax upon their salaries under the New York State Personal Income Tax Law.

Cortland A. Wilber, director of the State Income Tax Bureau, today stated that he was calling the attention of this group of taxpayers to this fact. He added that a number of state and municipal employees, including school teachers, have been led to an erroneous conclusion by reason of the fact that their salaries are not subject to tax under the Federal Law and that they were not preparing to file their state returns because of this.

Furthermore, Mr. Wilber declared that such state and municipal employees and school teachers who are members of a pension or retirement fund, deductions for which are made from the salary checks each pay day, are required in making up their state income tax returns to include therein the entire amount of their stated salaries and pay any tax due thereon. These amounts so deducted from their pay are considered as constructively received and paid in to the proper fund for the benefit of such recipients and therefore should be reported as part of their stated salary.

The state income tax must be paid on or before Saturday, April 15. Exemptions remain the same as last year.

Erne And Zucca Will Play At Easter Ball

John P. Erne's and Paul Zucca's orchestras will furnish the music at the Easter Monday night ball to be held at the new state armory. These orchestras will be augmented for the occasion and as in the past years will undoubtedly render music that will please all. Kingston musicians will furnish for an event of this kind as good music as any that could be secured elsewhere.

The program is still in the formative stage, but the committee assures all that it will compare favorably with any that has been staged in the past.

All committees are working and looking forward to a successful affair.

Check Room.

Miss Kathryn Welch, who has been chairman for several years past, has handed the check room to the satisfaction of all. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Rodden, Mrs. J. Williams, Miss Anna Broadhead, Miss Margaret Malone and Miss Margaret Welch.

Lemonade Booth.

The thirsty patrons may look for the booth where Mrs. Frank Schatzel is chairman and she and her committee will serve ice cold lemonade throughout the entire evening. The following will assist: Mrs. Margaret McCann, Mrs. Margaret Haynor, Miss Katherine Schatzel and Mrs. William Proulx.

Salvation Army Appeal

A special emergency appeal for funds is being conducted by the Salvation Army. Those wishing to contribute may send checks or offerings to Max Reben, treasurer; Judge Joseph M. Fowler, chairman, or Adjutant Wood of the Salvation Army Citadel, North Front street. To date about $399 has been realized.

Court Of Inquiry On Dirigible Akron Like Court Martial

Brook powers of a general court martial will be in the hands of the court of inquiry which begins Monday in search for the facts concerning the crash at sea early Tuesday of the Navy dirigible Akron with the loss of 12 lives.

The court, with its three members acting both as judge and jury, can subpoena witnesses and those who testify before it do so under oath. In that respect, it differs from a board of investigation, which may or may not require its witnesses to testify under oath.

The three survivors of the Akron disaster, Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley, and enlisted men Richard E. Deal and Moody E. Erwin, will be called as witnesses by the court. If there is evidence tending to incriminate them, the court will notify them they are in the role of defendants.

From an authoritative source here it was learned Lieutenant Commander Wiley may request at the outset that he be designated a defendant. He has that privilege and by such nominal designation, he would be able to sit in at all sessions of the court.

Keen Admiral W. W. Phelps, commandant of the New York naval district, was named yesterday as president of the court of inquiry and Capt. H. E. Shawmaker, commander of the air station at Sunnyvale, Calif., and Commander Garland Felton, head of the lighter-than-air division of the Bureau of Aeronautics, were named its other members.

After the evidence is completed, the court will deliberate in the same manner as a civil jury and then will make its decision. That decision may be accompanied by recommendations and directions for action.

It is considered likely the inquiry will be a lengthy one. Whether it will be public will be decided by the president of the court.

In addition to the three members of the court of inquiry, the personnel includes a judge advocate, similar to a prosecutor or a district

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and rank and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or anything else and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your downcast mood is in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remember a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Sly and Wily Stream Is Puzzle to All Guessers

It has been bruited about often in recent years that the Gulf stream, by shifting its course, has managed to change the climate of the Atlantic coast states, bringing milder winters than our grandfathers or great-grandfathers endured. Recent winters have been mild, generally speaking, though mild winters or severe ones, the Gulf stream cannot be charged with responsibility. A survey carried out by the officers of the British destroyer Saguenay in the course of that vessel's passage to the West Indies station confirms the situation of the Gulf stream as that indicated on the 1911 charts. Americans have previously had frequent assurance from their own surveyors that the Gulf stream had not changed, was not changing, would not change its course.

Indomitable believers in the powers of the Gulf stream may maintain that the Gulf stream, notoriously sly and wily, received advance information of the intended survey and went back to the haunts of 1911, further to perplex a harassed and bewildered world. To some that may seem plausible; that famous ocean current has been invested with so many remarkable qualities that it only strains credulity a trifle more to think of the Gulf stream as capable of spoofing unimaginative surveyors of the deep.—New York Sun.

Camel Opened Mouth for Molar to Be Pulled Out

One of the camels was suffering from a decayed tooth that developed a serious abscess. It was decided to extract the molar. So the veterinarian ordered the camel brought to the hospital.

The tooth was extremely tender and the camel was in great pain. All expected trouble from the animal. Imagine the surprise when they began work and the camel showed signs of understanding what it was all about. The doctor tried to separate the animal's jaws, when to his astonishment the camel on its own account opened his mouth as far as he could and held out his head to permit inspection. The veterinarian examined the tooth, the camel holding perfectly still in the meantime. A pull with the instrument and out came the molar. Mr. Camel shut his mouth as if to say, "Now that's over." And went back to the zoo and had no more trouble.—Milwaukee Journal.

As Men Win and Lose

Average the life histories of men and you find something extremely interesting. From twenty to thirty, a man has everything before him, and he is likely to take chances. From thirty to thirty-five, he grows more conservative. From thirty-five to forty-five he accumulates his estate, but in spite of his efforts in 37 cases of every 100, he has lost his accumulations or begun to lose them, and at fifty-five to fifty, all is gone. After fifty, only one in 500 can recover his financial footing. This is the showing of the Magazine of Wall Street. It has never been disproved. At the age of sixty-five, of every 100 men, 35 depend on daily earnings or their children for support.

Lights of NEW YORK

By WALTER TRUMBULL

Most of the big baseball players have a very warm spot in their hearts for southerners. I know that Lou Gehrig, for example, recently broke an engagement to go to a party at a boy's club. And when he got there, with smiling good nature he autographed books, cards and everything the kids offered him on which to write his name. Gehrig, the man Clark Gable and many other baseball men have frequently selected as their all-star, all-time first baseman, is a modest, likable giant, who has some of the so-called bad habits. Yet his baseball idol is Babe Ruth, who has not always followed the straight and narrow path. Because he has been on the same team with the Babe, Lou Gehrig has not always had the recognition his ability deserves, and it might be only natural if he felt some resentment. But his admiration for Ruth is uncolored by the slightest tinge of jealousy. The Sultan of Swat has no more loyal booster. Gehrig declares and believes that Ruth is a grand fellow and the greatest ball player that ever lived.

When the New York Yankees are on the road, Gehrig sometimes goes down to the dining room ahead of Ruth and the Babe asks Lou to order his dinner for him.

"He always eats the same thing," says Gehrig. "I order him a steak, and if it is not two inches thick, he sends it back."

But I know another favorite dish of the Babe's. I have often known him to drive from St. Petersburg to Tampa, because there is a restaurant in the latter city which gets stone crabs from the East coast.

Ruth now shows humor in an experience he once had, but he didn't laugh when it happened. He was driving his car to keep a golf engagement at a club which is pretty well out in the country, and he was hurrying. A small town motorcycle cop chased and halted him.

"He didn't recognize me," said the great man, in relating the incident to his friends, "so I told him my name."

"And what did he say then?" inquired a listener.

"He said," roared the Babe, "So your name is Ruth? Well, what business are you in?"

To a man who can't walk a block or two in New York without tying up traffic, this was a crushing blow.

It is an experience to walk on a busy thoroughfare in almost any large city with either of those two superlative showmen, Ruth or Jack Dempsey. Before you have gone a block, you realize that as far as avoiding attention is concerned, you might as well lead a lion on a leash or take an airing on an elephant. As a matter of fact, I saw an elephant led through our streets for advertising purposes, and it attracted considerably less attention than I have seen crowds display for both the Manassa Mauler and the Rambler.

One more story about Ruth. When he was making a picture in Hollywood, a certain news service assigned a reporter to "cover him," with instructions not to let him out of sight from the time he rose until he retired for the night, and to write all he did. The representative of the press took his job so seriously that he got on the Babe's nerves. He asked Ruth whether he did any road work to keep in condition and was assured that he did. Why then, the reporter demanded, had he never seen the Babe on the road. It was because, he was told, he did not rise early enough. Ruth, he was told, did his road work at 6 a. m. The news gatherer was shocked to hear that he had been missing something and announced that he would be on hand the next morning.

This was unwelcome news, but the Babe and Arlie McGovern, who was with him, set an alarm clock for 5:45 and struggled out into the early dawn. They found the reporter waiting. They started to jog up the street and the reporter jogged with them. But then the Babe increased the pace. At the end of a couple of blocks, the news hound was all in. He gasped a question as to whether they would return by the same route, was assured that they would, and dropping breathlessly on a convenient lawn, stated that he would wait for them. The Babe and Arlie McGovern started on briskly, made a couple of right angle turns, came back to a side door of the hotel, and went back to bed. The reporter waited two hours. When he next saw the runners, he received the combined apology and explanation that, before they realized it, they had covered twelve miles and had caught a ride back.

"Biddy" Disregards Talk of Depression

Rochester, N. H.—Mrs. Bertha Richardson of the old Dover road, has among her flock of Rhode Island Reds at least one optimistic hen which, in spite of the depression, continues to produce mass quantities. Mrs. Richardson gathered up an egg from one of the nests which weighed but a fraction less than five ounces and measured in circumference 5 1/2 inches. The egg was perfectly shaped and contained three yolks.

Climate in Sahara Desert

The climate is not absolutely uniform throughout the Sahara desert, which covers a wide range of territory. In some sections of the desert there is no rainfall, in others it is scanty. There is, however, considerable rain in the region of the Central mountains.

Beer Comes Back To National Capital

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Beer comes back to the capital tonight, or, to be precise, 12:41 a. m., Friday morning.

President Roosevelt late yesterday signed the bill regulating sale here, and immediately the beverage permit board went at it full steam to get out the necessary licenses.

The board, working until midnight, rejected about 50 per cent of the more than 800 applications because they were improperly filled out.

The applicants, however, can correct their errors today.

The beer may be sold in hotels, restaurants and clubs to those over 21.

The first permit was granted to the National Press Club.

A beer hall was planned at the Washington Auditorium beginning at midnight tonight, but the District of Columbia commissioners blocked that by prohibiting any sales in that place.

The district beer law permits the sale of the beverage on government property, including the senate and house restaurants.

New York City Beer Under Health Board

New York, April 6 (AP).—The state legislature is still deadlocked on the problem of beer control, but New York will have 3.3 per cent beer tomorrow just the same.

In New York city the beer will be sold and transported under a new sanitary regulation drafted yesterday by Mayor O'Brien. The board of health planned to issue permits today, placing beer on a status comparable to that of soft drinks. Fees for permits are on a graduated scale.

Four hundred thousand barrels and 150,000 cases of the 3.3 per cent brew were ready for distribution.

Jacob Ruppert, president of the United States Brewers' Association, announced, however, that deliveries would not be started until 6 a. m. tomorrow. He warned against a "carnival" of jollity.

In the state outside of New York city, beer will be sold under city and village regulations.

Dollar-a-Barrel Beer Bill Signed

State Capitol, Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Governor Lehman today signed the Buckley dollar-a-barrel beer tax bill, enabling the state to collect revenue at the breweries when the Federal Beer bill becomes effective at midnight, even though the legislature cannot agree upon a licensing plan.

"We're going to lose a lot of revenue," Governor Lehman said as he signed the document, "because the state won't be able to get any money by licensing. But at least we can tax the breweries."

The legislature is deadlocked over the local control issue, the Republicans insisting that the licensing be done by county boards, while the Democrats favor a central state licensing board.

Avocado Pears

The food value of Avocado pears per pound, as purchased, is 652 calories. The full value per pound of the edible portion, is 908 calories; and 70 grams as purchased, or 46 grams of the edible portion, are required to make a 100-calorie food portion.

SOME OPINIONS

I dislike the words "about" or "approximately."—Dariusz Muskat.

Don't forget that you injure your own character when you attack that of another.

To be somebody, be different—unless, unfortunately, you are taken for a lunatic.

It is often easier to make a statement in good faith than it is to get it accepted.

To get listened to, say something smart so quickly that your hearers can't ignore it.

No one, as in former eras, goes around showing a huge roll of money. It's too dangerous.

One shouldn't talk about his pursuit of personal cleanliness as if it were some kind of a feat.

No birds that devour insects should be killed—ever. Insects cause about 25 per cent of the misery on the earth.

You have to begin early admonishing a young man about his eating habits or he will get a paunch by the time he is thirty-five.

CURIOUS CARGOES

Seen during a tour of London's dockland:

Kangaroo tails from Australia and reindeer tongues from Canada—they are used for soup.

Twenty boxes of what looked like oily bootsoles. There were vanilla "beans" from Seychelles, West Africa.

A ram's horn full of extract from the glands of Arabian cats. It is a rare import, priced at about $10 an ounce.

Fifty tons of sea water brought in a tank in a barge from the sea off the south of France. It was for the London zoo, and contains organisms particularly pleasing to tropical fish.

Gum benzoin from Sumatra for lung troubles, dried rhubarb roots from China, shark oil from Yokohama, mushroom oil from Leningrad.—Exchange.

Silver Committee Met With Woodin

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Members of Congress hoping to better economic conditions by increasing the price of silver, pressed ahead with their campaign today, reporting that they were "considerably cheered" as a result of their first round-table get-together with Secretary Woodin.

After that three-hour conference, Chairman Somers of the House coinage committee, one of the leading proponents of silver legislation, said: "He's a fine man. I think we can work with him."

Senator Pittman (D., Nev.) summoned western senators to a meeting this afternoon to go over the whole problem and see whether they could agree upon one plan.

A meeting "soon" of the banking silver subcommittee was looked for by Senator Adams (D., Colo.), its chairman.

Armory Committee To Meet Shortly

At the last meeting of the common council a committee was appointed to meet with the supervisors to arrange for the city taking title to the old armory on central Broadway.

Alderman McGraw, chairman of the aldermanic committee, met with Supervisor Roscoe Elsworth, chairman of the board of supervisors, on Wednesday and talked the matter over.

It is expected that within a few days the aldermanic committee will meet with Chairman Elsworth and County Attorney Robert G. Groves to discuss the matter before any action is taken to call the entire board of supervisors together to act on the question.

At the present time the city is using the old armory as headquarters for the emergency work relief committee.

SHOKAN

Shokan, April 6.—Abel North of Acorn Hill, welfare officer for the town of Olive, was a business caller here Monday.

Charles Morrell, who for several weeks past was employed at the corner restaurant, has gone to Sidney. Mr. Morrell came here from Lynn, Mass., while en route to Buffalo to claim a legacy, and finding Shokan quite to his liking, concluded to spend the remainder of the winter here.

Walter Bogart, well known watershed inspector, is riding around in one of the new model Chevrolet sedans.

Henry Wells and Bert Winchell are making noticeable improvements to the grounds of their adjoining homes on the old state road.

Charles Giles, who has been ill for the past several weeks, is still unable to get out to the post office, much to the regret of his numerous friends in the village center.

At the annual Olive town meeting held on April 6, 1852—the first Tuesday in April—the entire Democratic ticket was elected by an average majority of 100 votes. At the election held the previous spring, the Democrats also were generally successful, the Whigs capturing only the tax collectorship.

Martin J. Every, general chairman of the board of assessors, was a business caller here Wednesday morning. Mr. Every has recovered from his prolonged illness of the past winter and now feels fit to tackle the assessing work in company with his associates on the board, Nelson Bell and Ezra Slikkorth.

The pair of mammoth Red Bourbon turkeys owned by Homer Markle, Jr., the west end poultryman, are attracting many favorable comments from those who have seen the birds. The old gobbler and his mate occasionally saunter down to the state road where they appear to enjoy seeing the sights and strutting their stuff.

Millard Bell and Clarence Moe have returned from a motor trip to Ohio. Economic conditions are very bad in the Middle West, according to Mr. Bell.

Mrs. Mary Rogers has been sojourning for a time at her summer home on Winchell mountain.

Nose Pinney and Gould Personous are trimming the trees in the William Shultis orchard on church hill.

Mrs. Frank J. Benda, whose marriage took place in Rosendale on Sunday, March 26, has a number of friends and relatives in this section.

Mrs. Benda, who before her marriage was Miss Lelah Winchell of Kingston, is a sister of Mrs. George Sickler of Ashokan.

William Stewart, a former resident of the Spillway sector, was numbered among the Kingston people in Shokan on Saturday.

King Solomon's Wealth

Under the reign of Solomon, Israel developed into a commercial nation. Foreign alliances which he made formed the basis of trading relations abroad. He joined in maritime commerce with the Phoenicians, and once in three years sent a fleet from his port at the head of the gulf of Akaba to trade with Ophir, presumably on the eastern coast of Arabia, and places on the way. These expeditions brought back gold and oriental riches and vastly expanded the royal coffers.

Hitler Points To U.S. Exclusion Act

Berlin, April 6 (AP).—Chancellor Adolf Hitler pointed to the United States exclusion act against the yellow race as a precedent in explaining today his purpose in removing Jewish intellectuals from medical, legal, artistic and scientific positions in Germany.

"The American people were the first to draw the practical political consequences from the inequality in the difference of races," he said. "Through immigration laws it barred undesirable from other races. Now in America ready now to open its doors to Jews fleeing from Germany."

To this reference to emigrating Jews, Hitler added the usual Nazi assertion that no physical harm whatever was done them.

He also expressed the opinion that the United States, which before other modern countries became an exponent of a strong movement against foreign elements, has the least occasion to attempt to counteract Germany's efforts to purge himself of foreign elements.

Hitler's remarks were occasioned by his visit to the new Jewish executive board of the German Medical Federation.

Internal Treatment Best Way To Be Free From

PILES

Guaranteed Prescription

"Take one tasteless tablet 3 times a day and in 2 weeks the chances are that your pile misery will be gone—the clean way—the right way."

So says Dr. J. S. Leachard, whose wonderful formula Hem-Roid is dispensed by McBride Drug Stores and progressive druggists everywhere with the distinct guarantee that one bottle will show you the way to be rid of this torturing and embarrassing trouble or money back.

Blind, bleeding and itching piles, all come from the same cause—stagnant blood in veins of the rectum and bear this in mind no matter what kind of piles you have—no matter how stubborn or how long standing—the bottle of Hem-Roid is guaranteed—ask your druggist.—Advt.

How to Drive CIRCULATING POISONS From The Blood

When you have aches and pains in muscles such as neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago and neuritis—it's because you have circulating poisons in the blood.

For the same reason many folks have pimples, boils, rashes and skin eruptions—these are worn out, weary, haggard and so nervous they cannot sleep.

One good way to get rid of the circulating poisons that most groups have is to get at McBride Drug Stores or any leading druggist anywhere a 45 or 75 cent bottle of Oxy-Crystine—one quart of water and 2 teaspoonfuls and drink a glassful before meals 3 times a day.

This supremely efficient, mineral water drink will start you on the road to better health in 4 days—then continue this inexpensive treatment till your ailment disappears as a more convincing, liver or bile trouble—if not joyfully satisfied—money back.—Advt.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—On the left side of the dividing aisle of the senate chamber, a man in a dark suit and tie, a new set of
of leaders in carrying on for the republicans was where formerly that famous
"Old Guard" trio
of Smoot, Watson and Mower.

Members of those Smoot-Hawley tariff believers who gave rise to the "Young Guard" movement are being revived as these new leaders
get more and more into the thick of things.

Out in most one finds the youthful and scholarly Michigan, Vandenburg was one of the leaders of the group of young republicans who back in 1925 were reported in some quarters as seeking to dislodge the
"Old Guard" leaders.

He is one of the most active on the republican side these days. To some observers he has given the impression that he is out to make himself the spearhead
of the opposition
in the senate.

"Minute Man" Constant in his attendance at sessions, he permits
little to escape
him. When new legislation is brought before the senate for consideration he is among the first to step in and try to find what is all about.

A formal speaker,
admittedly one of the orators of the senate, and a student of government, he usually strikes at the heart of the situation
under discussion.
Sometimes he questions a speaker
as to the soundness
of his arguments,
but he continues to speak the same.

To one senator who appeared a bit irritated by his persistent questioning of a place
of legislation recently, Vandenberg
said:

"I am sure the senator does not mean to infer that one can be sympathetic to the bill as it is. I mean to infer that those who have submitted inquiries respecting the bill are not less sympathetic with the objective than he is."

Dickinson, Tex.
Almost as outspoken
as Vandenberg is Dickinson of Iowa,
schooled in the house of representatives and serving his first term in the senate.

The white-haired,
broad-shouldered
Iowaian pursues different tactics
from those of Vandenburg. A regular
of regular republicans,
he is a conservative
in every respect
when it comes to politics.

At times he, too, gets beneath the
skin of colleagues.
Cousins of Michigan tied in with him recently and
before it was over strong words had been exchanged
between the two.
But Dickinson kept his cool, in overall.

All in all, it's a vastly different picture from the days when Reed
Smoot, Jim Watson
and George Mower were in the
G. O. P. side of the chamber.

OFFICE CAT

People can never get it through their heads that promptness is a man's most precious possession for a job that pays no salary.

Folks with weak backbones often have some stiff-necked habits.

Weather Man—Put down rain for a certainty this afternoon.

Weather Man—Yes, indeed, sir. I've got my umbrella, I'm planning to play golf, and my wife is giving a tea party.

Imagine the sad case of "Killer Kelly", the star captain and fullback of the Atlanta team, who was paraded on the day before the big game with Sing Sing.

In biography one is always struck by the intense energy of great men.

That Kansas man who complained because it took 500 bushels of corn to pay for a set of false teeth, could have bought a feed-grinder cheaper and lived on mush.

Mose—Ah hears Rastus done got arrested.

George—He sho did, Niggah—der got him for procrastination.

Mose—What's dat?

George—He done stole a watch.

HODGE-PODGE. The woman who makes a man a good husband incidentally makes him a good husband.

A man will forgive and forget almost any negligence around the house except letting the salt shaker get empty. Scheming usually bears the same relation to planning, that liquor does to food.

If this keeps up much longer a lot more of the tailor-made guys will be appearing in hand-me-downs. The more, less, the more, less, the more money he'll spend—if he can possibly get hold of it.

If love is really blind, as it is claimed, why is it so many girls fall in love at first sight? It doesn't pay to use too much slang. Never tell the small boy with a drum to beat it. A chorus girl gets her 40 winks every night, but they come from the first row.

Face powder may catch a man, but it's hakin' up applaud because we're glad the party's over. A boy may be playing a little lamb just to pull the wool over some girl's eyes. Don't you ever wonder how you manage to get along as well as you do?

Judge—Well, here you are again, Rastus.

Rastus—Yassuh, Judge. I've back afore you agin, but dis time Ah got a good cause.

Judge—Well, what is it Rastus?

Rastus—Judge, what would yo' do if someone steal yo' wife?

Judge—I'd cut her company, Rastus, and let it go at that.

Rastus—Dat's jes' what Ah did—and Ah cut him deep.

In city court in Greensboro, N. C., recently a negro was being tried for an infraction of the law. The Judge asked him what he did for a living. He replied: "Oh, I piddle around for the government." This brought a laugh from the spectators. It developed that the negro was doing relief work at 75 cents a day.

There was, in our modest opinion, much truth in the negro's remark. There are entirely too many "piddling around for the government."

And according to our way of thinking, a lot of our congressmen seem to be as unbalanced as our budget.

Teacher—Now, Robert, if you were seated in a car, every seat of which was occupied, and a lady entered, what would you do?

Robert—I'd pretend I was asleep.

One who succeeds does not pass the buck. He passes the field.

Reformer—Why don't you fight against your longing for drink? When you are tempted, think of your wife at home.

Drinker—Madam, when the thirst is upon me I am absolutely devoid of fear.

(The Moss Feature Syndicate, 808 Summit Ave., Greensboro, N. C.)

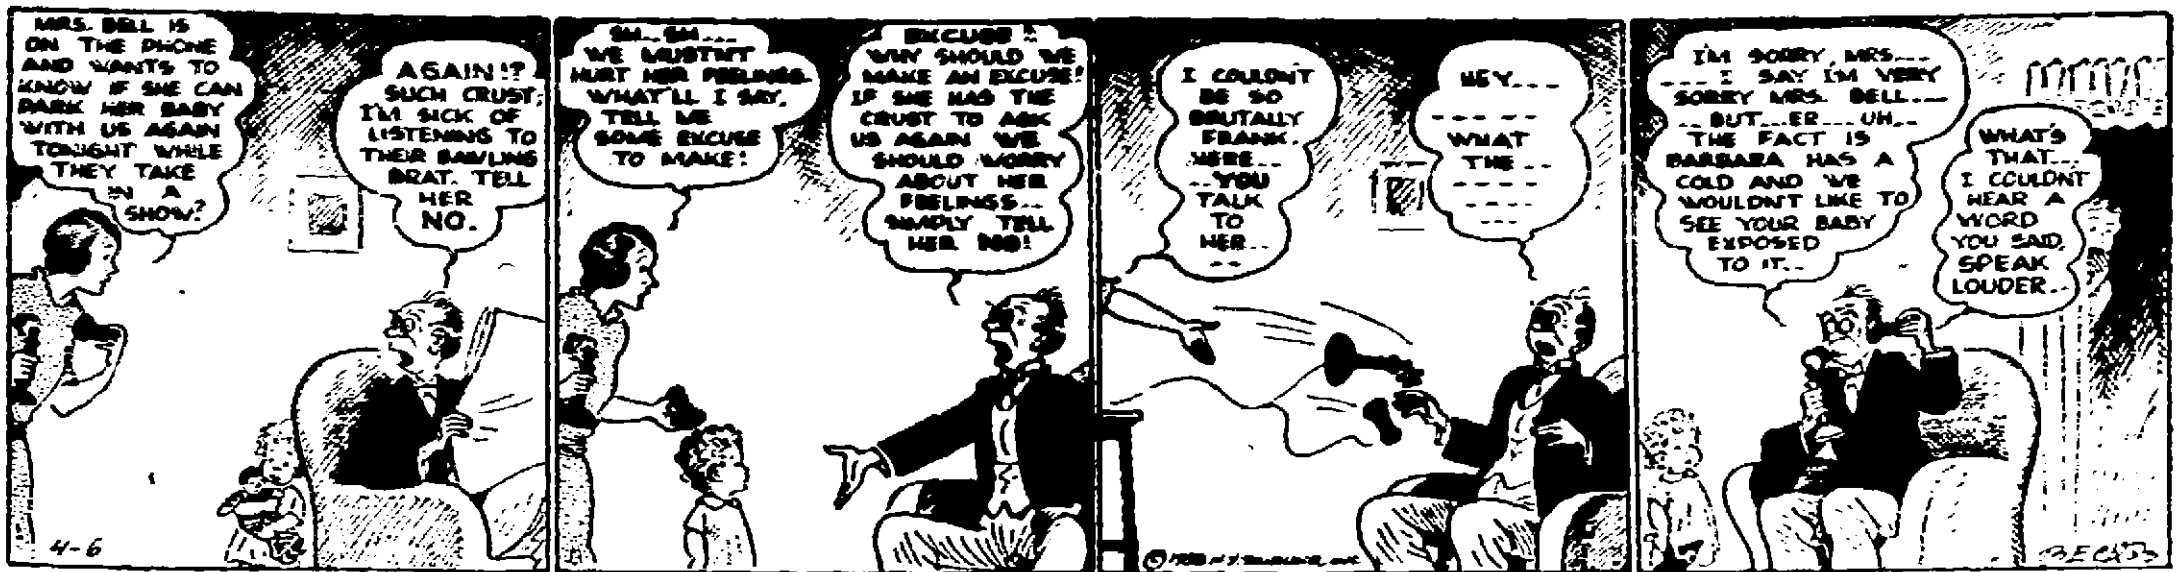

A Family's Hair Self-Bobbing

An unmistakably white family in Norway has had for generations a considerable proportion of members with hair as kinky as a negro's. Moreover—believe it or not—this hair bobs itself; for each hair breaks off after reaching a length of 2 or 3 inches.

Governs Many Amateur Sports

The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States is the governing body of 17 amateur sports in the United States.

CAS BUGGIES—Emmer Said Then Done.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD—Ann Harding may meet George Bernard Shaw again, but when and if she does she hopes he'll hurl none of Irish wit at Hedgerow.

To Ann that's no laughing matter. Hedgerow, where she learned about acting from the stern master, Jasper Deeter; Hedgerow, the little theater to which she has said she will return after her movie work is finished.

It was Hedgerow that George Bernard Shaw took occasion to lampoon when Miss Harding was presented to him during his studio visit the other day. Result: Miss Harding was reduced to tears—later, in the privacy of her dressing room, of course.

G. B. S., naturally, may not be assumed to have known what Hedgerow is to Miss Harding, but his retort to her complimentary reference to his play—a reply to the effect he was sure Hedgerow had played a performance—made no friends on that set.

Trim Mr. Shaw, white-bearded, pink-cheeked, twinkling-eyed, went his merry way, passing out quips freely, undramatically innocent of the fact that he had left an emotional tempest in his path.

A Screen 'Kingfish'

Louisiana's Senator Huey P. Long is due to reach the screen shortly in an original story entitled, of course, "The Kingfish." It will be a fictionalized Long that Edward G. Robinson will portray, and Jack Warner, the producer, already has talked it over with the kingfish himself. The title of the picture probably will be changed so as not to conflict with a new biography of the Louisianaian.

When Themes Are Strong

One of the distinguishing features of the German production, "Mädchen in Uniform," which has received much attention in this country, is the absence of men from the cast.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" was one of the very few Hollywood films in which the usual love interest was lacking. Its success indicated that a sufficiently strong theme does not require the usual romantic complications for popular appeal.

Currently "Captured," with Leslie Howard as "Douglas Fairbanks, Jr." is of the same school. Its whole plot is dominated by a girl (Margaret Lindsay), but her appearances are so brief that it is left almost entirely to the story of two men.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

TWO TO ONE

IT WAS very early in the morning. Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had but just kicked off his rosy blankets and was hardly yet started for his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky. The birds were just starting out after the early worms and twittering and singing happily as they went. Behind the old stone wall where it makes a corner close by the dusty road that runs past one side of the Old Orchard, two forms in red lay crouching among the bushes at a point where the wall had partly fallen.

Who were they? Why, you know. They were Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy. From the place where they lay they could see over the fallen wall and their eyes were fixed on the entrance to a certain house, a new house in the corner made by the old wall, a new house with a doorstep of shining sand.

Presently, a head appeared, a head becoming rather gray. Then out on the doorstep of shining sand appeared a stout form, which set up very straight for a few minutes while a pair of bright eyes looked keenly in all directions save at the old stone wall which formed two sides of the corner.

Reddy Fox nudged Mrs. Reddy.

PALENTOWN

Palentown, April 6—Harry Brown spent the week-end with his family in this place.

John Traver and his little son, Vincent, are confined with measles. They are under the care of Dr. Holloway of Kerkhouson. The little boy has pneumonia. All hope they will soon be well again.

Mrs. Theodore Penner of Walden is spending some time with her mother, helping with the sick.

All are sorry to hear that Irvin Mondore is very ill with measles and hope he will soon be better.

Marian Brannan is home on a vacation from high school in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Joseph Lennon called on Mrs. J. Traver Saturday afternoon.

George Lyons is cutting firewood on his woodlot. He has been drawing it to parties in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gray and children spent Sunday afternoon at Joseph Lennon's.

Mrs. Clara Lennon called at the John Traver home Sunday morning.

"What did I tell you?" he whispered. "Did you ever see anything so easy? Johnny Chuck must be in his second childhood. He seems to have forgotten entirely that it is possible for anyone to jump over this wall."

It did seem that way, for after a minute or two Johnny dropped down on all fours and trotted off towards the patch of sweet clover where he was in the habit of getting his breakfast, and although it was some distance away he never once looked back. Reddy and Mrs. Reddy watched him and grinned. Johnny couldn't possibly have done anything to suit their plans better than he was now doing.

Straight to the patch of clover he trotted. There he sat up for a moment or two for a last look to see that all was well. Satisfied that it was, he dropped down and began to eat, and once he had begun to eat he forgot everything but the taste of that delicious clover.

Reddy looked at Mrs. Reddy, then lightly leaped over the old stone wall. Mrs. Reddy followed right at his heels. In a second they were between Johnny Chuck and his house. Then side by side they began to steal towards where Johnny Chuck was stuffing himself with clover. Johnny hadn't heard a sound and he was still wholly unsuspecting.

At just that instant Sammy Jay arrived for his usual morning call on Johnny Chuck. In an instant Sammy saw Johnny's danger and began to shriek as only Sammy can when he sees a Fox. Johnny knew what it meant. Of course. He sat up as suddenly as if he possessed a spring for a backbone. Of course he saw Reddy and Mrs. Reddy instantly. Also he saw that they were between him and his house and that it was two to one.

For an instant all his courage left him. He turned and started to run. But what was the use? There was no place to run to. Johnny whirled and showed all his teeth in an ugly snarl. Two to one wasn't fair. It wasn't fair at all. But he would fight just as long as there was any fight in him. You know, Johnny Chuck is no coward.

to see how the sick were getting along. Dr. Holloway made a call at John Traver's Wednesday morning and found her patient much better.

BALLOON DANCE

FRIDAY, APRIL 7

Music by

Dancing 8 to 1.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "42nd Street." Chalk up a personal triumph for Ruby Keeler in this tuneful talkie of the theatrical district of New York city.

This lavish musical comedy is one of the best song and dance pictures ever shown on the screen, and a talented cast, supported by hundreds of extras, all combine to make this drama an outstanding hit. Snappy music and choruses, some excellent scenery and photography, and the work of such recognized stars as Warner Baxter, George Brent, Bebe Daniels, Ginger Rogers and Guy Kibbee, all help to put this musical over with a bang.

But Ruby Keeler, as the little country girl who heads the call of Broadway, and who substitutes for a musical comedy star just before the opening curtain, makes good in a big way. Put this one on the don't miss list.

Orpheum: "Men in Her Life" and "Arm of the Law." Lois Moran is the star of the first romance, supported by Charles Bickford. "Arm of the Law" is a mystery drama with Rex Bell, Bryant Washburn, Lina Basquette, Marceline Day, and Robert Frazer.

Broadway: "Southern Rhythm Revels" on the stage, with "Guilty as Hell," starring Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen on the screen.

The stage show is a song and dance revue with a large cast and the singing of Paddy Cliff and Flo Herman, Chester Lawson's Dancing Girls, Sid Austin and the Radio Broadcasting Orchestra. Art Cowan and Company, Miss Winona and Patsy Dell, and other feature offerings. "Guilty as Hell" is a fast-paced murder mystery with the well-known Lowe-McLaglen combination at their best. There are a lot of thrills in this talkie, plus some really excellent dialogue, Richard Arlen and Adrienne Ames are also in the cast.

Tomorrow: Kingston: Same. Orpheum: "Trouble in Paradise" and "When a Man Rides Alone." The first feature is one of the best of the current talkie hits, a romantic tale of a clever continental thief who steals jewelry and hearts with equal grace and abandon. Herbert Marshall, in the role of the handsome robber, gives a thoroughly enjoyable performance, and a splendid supporting cast offers Kay Francis and Miriam Hopkins in featured parts. "When a Man Rides Alone" is a western performance, with Tom Tyler in the lonely role of a man who rides alone under western skies to danger and love.

Broadway: Same. Heavier Than Lead. The old phrase "heavy as lead" could be changed to "heavy as osmium" for the latter metal weighs twice as much as lead.

"When a Man Rides Alone" is a western performance, with Tom Tyler in the lonely role of a man who rides alone under western skies to danger and love.

Broadway: Same. Heavier Than Lead. The old phrase "heavy as lead" could be changed to "heavy as osmium" for the latter metal weighs twice as much as lead.

Tomorrow: Kingston: Same. Orpheum: "Trouble in Paradise" and "When a Man Rides Alone." The first feature is one of the best of the current talkie hits, a romantic tale of a clever continental thief who steals jewelry and hearts with equal grace and abandon. Herbert Marshall, in the role of the handsome robber, gives a thoroughly enjoyable performance, and a splendid supporting cast offers Kay Francis and Miriam Hopkins in featured parts. "When a Man Rides Alone" is a western performance, with Tom Tyler in the lonely role of a man who rides alone under western skies to danger and love.

Broadway: Same. Heavier Than Lead. The old phrase "heavy as lead" could be changed to "heavy as osmium" for the latter metal weighs twice as much as lead.

HOTELMAN DEVISES PLAN TO SERVE BEER WITHOUT OLD FASHIONED BAR

creamy

Of course it's creamy—for it is made with rich, fresh cream. That's why you will find this ice cream creamy, extra smooth, extra delicious. So many flavors, and unusual combinations that you can serve it every day in the week without repeating the flavors. Brick or loaves. Have some tonight.

The flat silver used at the White House has no particular designation. It is perfectly plain, and the handles of all pieces bear the inscription, "President's House," in English script.

Chicago Plans For Beer Celebration

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—The eve of beer has been ready for its share, but without any outward indication that there will be much ado about it.

In fact, hotel men, brewers and others interested in the flow of legalized brew said they hoped there would not be any celebration.

Federal prohibition agents were prepared to circulate around the city tonight to see that there were no violations of the law by premature sales.

Most cities throughout the state also were planning to welcome beer's return without any unusual celebrations.

Meanwhile it appeared that all sales of beer in Illinois would be made without a state regulatory law for the time being. The House of Representatives at Springfield last night failed to pass Governor Henry Horner's regulatory and licensing bill, and legislative leaders said it would be impossible to enact a law before the national statute legalizing beer became effective.

Sanatorium and Sanatorium
A sanatorium is a health resort where people in a run-down condition go to recuperate; a sanatorium is a place where the sick go to get well. Sanatorium is derived from the Latin "sanitas," health, while sanatorium comes from "sanatorius," curing or health-giving.

FLAVOR... that's the great difference between your mayonnaise and the usual ready-made kinds. But we've made a mayonnaise as definite in flavor as your own. Not strong, or over-seasoned, yet piquant enough to give you that elusive spiciness which makes all the difference between a "flat" salad and a truly zesty one.

In Ivanhoe Mayonnaise the finest seasonings are nicely balanced to give subtle relish without intruding their native harshness. Extra egg-yolks make it unusually rich and creamy. Finally, a unique method of beating unites all ingredients in a blend and consistency that no other mayonnaise can equal.

Just try a jar of Ivanhoe yourself. It comes to you with all its original fresh, creamy goodness guarded by the Ivanhoe seal of protection. And notice that this jar, when empty, is ideal to use at preserving-time. Sold at good grocers in quarts and pints. Ivanhoe Foods Inc., Auburn, N. Y.

MAYONNAISE

ACTIVITIES AT REFORMED CHURCH OF THE COMFORT

Next Sunday will be appropriately observed both morning and evening. The pastor will preach a sermon in keeping with the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem. There will also be special music. One of the features will be combining the Senior and Junior Chorus into one large chorus of between 30 and 40 voices. Douglas Kennedy will favor the congregation with a rouser solo. The whole service will be a joyous and worshipful occasion.

At the evening service the Holy Club will have charge of the service. There will be brief addresses by two or three of the young people, also special music by the club. The public is invited to attend these services.

There will be services on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings during Passion week, with some special music by the choir. On Wednesday evening, the Rev. Dr. James Cantine will preach the sermon. On Thursday evening the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered and new members will be received into the fellowship of the church. On Friday evening, the Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve will preach the sermon. The public is invited to worship with us in these services.

Business Girls Hear Conference Reports

The Wednesday evening session of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. M. C. A. was very well attended. After the excellent supper, the girls adjourned to the reading room, where very interesting reports were given of the Business and Professional Girls' Conference of the Eastern District held in Albany over the week-end last week. The district includes six cities of the eastern part of the state. Miss Phillips, president of the Kingston Business Girls' Club, told with reasonable pride of the fact that the Kingston Club opened and closed the program of Friday evening.

Miss Phillips told of the outstanding speaker of the evening session, which she said, was held in the very attractively decorated Y. W. C. A. Building. Winthrop C. Stevens, a Golden Key of the City had been given for the splendid civic work he had done in Albany. His topic was "What Makes a Day?" and he dealt with the matter in point of time—morning, noon, evening. Time belong to each one of us to do with as we would. Individually even when employed by others. We alone can be certain to ourselves. The speaker emphasized the need of considering first things first and warned the girls not to give up in spirit of present difficult times nor to turn away. Having started his group off in the morning of the day, he continued the talk in the evening time and the evening session was very interesting.

The morning of Saturday was devoted to discussion groups. By the time the group that considered Courage as needed in the Home, Miss Flora Pratt reported on the discussion. It was near plain that courage and strength of character were needed to carry on. In the going through the day's necessary routine, prayer and reading of the Bible were needed and a loving consideration of others, dealing with the very interesting of the day.

Miss Ruth Bell gave a full report of the discussion on Courage in Business. Dr. Dorothy Andrews led this discussion. Courage was needed in facing present day situations in business as the President of the United States was facing business problems today. Courage was called for to meet business losses and still find a way to keep employees on the pay roll. Courage was needed to stand against the undue influence of large concerns. Further, courage was needed in the handling and it was considered of vital importance for one not to lose their temper or talk back. It also took courage to take the initiative in talking matters over with "the boss." It was necessary to be honest and to give fellow workers due credit to meet people in the business world intelligently and honestly.

Miss Phillips reported that "Noon" was considered by Miss Henrietta Gilman. This was considered the time of growth and development in life. It was included in the program and all attending factors in the discussion. A great reason was given and self-interest, business and the closed mind were warned against. It was agreed that each need to assume responsibility to be of service to others and to obey our moral laws.

The Evening of the day was considered the time for diversion, and the report of this discussion group was given by Miss Alma Tyler. Miss Tyler, who led this group, found that after all diversion began in the morning as one walked or rode to business. She wondered how many of the girls, recalling what they had read or talked over, or thought in the night before, thought it over as they went to business in the morning. In the evening there is time for reading—something more worth while than novels, studying music, in some cases, the forming of library classes in chemistry, better English, or the establishing of Garden Clubs and Gym Classes. It was considered that this group discussion should be an inspiration to others.

Miss Marion Phillips told of the Inspirational Group, led by Mrs. R. E. Locke, who included in inspirational forces in our lives, prayer, poetry, literature, music, etc. Inspiring people are ready to smile under all circumstances and to make God known to others.

Miss Ruth Bell told vividly of the Saturday night banquet, and showed the girls the very attractive song book covers, favors and programs prepared by the Albany girls. The Industrial girls were the efficient waitresses. The president of the Board of directors of the Albany Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Mc Kenzie, acted as the charming toastmistress at the banquet. They had an inspiring song leader and there was excellent singing. The Kingston girls sang "Chinese Honeymoon" as a solo. The speaker for the banquet was the service of keeper music will begin at 8:20 o'clock.

Elaborate Revue Opens at Broadway

Theaters who prefer performance to the best have the opportunity to satisfy their desire at the Broadway Theatre tonight where "Southern Rhythms Revels" opens a three-day engagement. Advance notices say the show is filled with pleasing variety—singing, dancing, comedy and a host of chorus beauties—and is expected to score as big a hit here as in other cities where it has played.

With the revue in Flo Herman, blues, torch and balled singer, formerly heard over the Columbia broadcasting system, Patsy Dell, petite little acrobatic dancer who played in Earl Carroll's Vanities, Chester Lawson's dancing girls, Paddy Cliff, jazz specialist, Eld Austin and his 10-piece band and Murray Parker and Jule Cowan, comedians, extraordinary Cowan played here with the "Show Boat Revue" and was a hit. This time he'll do an impersonation of Eddie Cantor.

Scenic efforts in "Southern Rhythms Revels" are said to be the most elaborate of any road show, especially those in the novel opening number and the closing entitled Mississippi Flood, which features Paddy Cliff and Miss Herman.

WARD'S TELEPHONE SALE A SUCCESS AND A STUDY

Montgomery Ward & Co. report that their special sale by telephone Wednesday night was a great success. The store advertised in Wednesday's Freeman a very special sale of bedspreads, to be sold from 7 to 9 o'clock that evening, in answer to telephone calls only. A list of telephone numbers was given, any of which could be called by those interested, who were to leave their names and addresses and choice of color.

Over 60 sales were made during the two hours the offer was open. The bedspreads sold were delivered this morning.

A point of interest to those in charge of the phone calls was the selection of numbers. Most of the inquiries either called the first number given or else skipped several numbers down the list, numbers five and six on the list seeming to be the favorites.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 6 (AP).—Another sharp decline appeared in the stock market in the early trading today, although the buying movement soon spent its force, and prices receded somewhat during the middle of the day.

Strength of commodities, particularly wheat, together with denial of rumors that Chicago and Northwestern would promptly seek reorganization, prompted further advance short covering in the share market. The low level of corporate earnings will hang over the market, however—a shadow which held bullishness in check.

Extreme gains of about 1 to more than 3 points in a wide assortment of issues were reduced by varying degrees. American Telephone lost over half of a rise of 3. Allied Chemical, Case and Union Pacific, after losing roughly half of 3-point gains, strengthened again and were up 2 or more by early afternoon. Stocks calculated to benefit by better commodity prices were particularly strong. Copper and silver stocks were up fractionally, and the two leading mail order issues about a point. Advances of a point or more were numerous in the rails, although this group met some selling on the

About the Folks

Mrs. Gerow Van Wyck, a former resident of this city, moved last week from Hudson and is located now on Washington avenue.

Paul Zucca, the Flanagan, Archer & Watkins, had department expert, was in New York city Wednesday on business, setting the latest points on spring styles in headwear.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roach of the Cherry Hill Farm on the Plank Road are receiving congratulations over the arrival of twin sons at the Benedictine Hospital on Sunday. Mother and sons are doing nicely.

Deputy County Treasurer William S. Doyle has been confined to his bed at 255 Washington avenue since Thursday afternoon last. He was reported to be somewhat improved today although still running a temperature. It is understood that Mr. Doyle has been suffering from the effects of a heavy cold.

REFUSE PARDON ASKED BY WINNIE RUTH JUDD

Phoenix, Ariz., April 6 (AP).—The Arizona board of pardons and paroles refused today to grant Winnie Ruth Judd another reprieve in the "trunk murder" case in which she is under sentence to hang April 31.

Acid Finishes Electric Bulbs
The inside of electric lamp bulbs is being etched in France by a machine which injects hydrofluoric acid into the bulb through a nozzle. Because these nozzles had to be replaced frequently due to the acid's corrosive action, they are now being made of a nickel-copper-chromium cast iron.

FARM BUREAU WILL TELL ABOUT PLANTING OF GARDENS

During the past few weeks the Farm Bureau office has received numerous requests for information in regard to the planting of gardens as a means of producing sufficient potatoes and vegetables for home use during the summer and to preserve for next winter. The Farm Bureau wishes to announce that it will be pleased to give out any information it has on this subject. A small leaflet entitled "Home Made Farm Relief" giving pointers as to how all the vegetables for all the year might be produced and a more complete bulletin on "Subsistence Gardens" are both available free of charge by applying at the Farm Bureau office, 74 John street, Kingston.

The directors of the Farm Bureau have instructed the agents to be prepared to answer any inquiries in regard to garden planting problems. This service will not be limited to Farm Bureau members, but is available to anyone desiring to secure the information. Many who have not planted a garden before are interested in doing so to produce vegetables for home use. Information regarding how much to plant, when and how to plant, fertilizer to use, methods of cultivation, etc., is available at the Farm Bureau office for the asking. A limited number of visits can be made to discuss individual problems, but all requests for information will be gladly answered.

This service is not designed to conflict with commercial vegetable growers and the services they now receive, but merely to help those who wish to help themselves by planting sufficient vegetables for home use, and particularly those who might not be able to purchase vegetables during the summer.

FLAMES "SHARP GUST OF WIND" FOR DISASTER
Washington, April 6 (AP).—A sudden and very sharp gust of wind, more severe than any he had ever experienced, was given by Lieutenant Commander H. V. Wiley of the Akron today—in an official report to the navy—as the apparent cause of the disaster to the aircraft.

Y. M. C. A. Drive To Start on April 18

The Young Men's Christian Association's Annual Budget drive will be held this year the week of April 18-24 with Clarence S. Rowland, president of the association, as chairperson. The drive is being organized by Clarence S. Rowland, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will again act in the capacity of campaign director.

Division chairmen have been secured, and are now busy choosing those who will assist them throughout the week as captains. Division "A" will be led by Stanley M. Winsor, Division "B" by Chester A. Baltz, and Division "C" by Fred L. Van Deusen.

Division "D", led by Fred Van Deusen, has secured the five captains in Thomas A. Rowland, Harold Davis, Sam H. Peyer, Frank Walters and R. J. Massingher. These five captains are now busy lining up seven men each to assist them.

Captains for the other two divisions will be announced as soon as they are signed.

Davis Elected Head Of Triangle Club

The Kingston Triangle Club at its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. elected unanimously the following officers: President, Harold Davis; vice-president, H. Le Roy Gill; secretary, Warren F. Smith; and treasurer, Ralph Gurney. William Mellett, Jr., Fred Van Deusen and Addison Jones were elected directors.

Principal Clarence L. Dumm of the Kingston High School showed two reels of motion pictures entitled "A Century of Progress" which were very much enjoyed by the members.

Novel Advertising By Byrne Brothers

Byrne Brothers, makers of mausoleums, monuments and markers for cemeteries, whose place of business is situated on Broadway, taking up the block between Henry and Van Deusen streets, have chosen a unique way to advertise their business. The firm has chosen a series of classic poems to be published in The Freeman every Thursday, starting today. The poem in this evening's advertisement is a selection from the Princess by Alfred Tennyson. Readers who delight in collecting classical poems will find the ads, which are artistically and beautifully illustrated, suitable for scrap book subjects.

CLUSTER FRUITGROWERS VISIT NEW YORK MARKETS

Peter J. McManus, chairman of the Ulster County Farm Bureau fruit committee, had charge of a group which visited the New York City markets early Wednesday morning for the purpose of studying conditions and formulating plans to improve the marketing of fruit in Ulster county. The committee also discussed steps which might be taken during the coming season to advertise Ulster county or perhaps Hudson valley fruit. Those who took part in the trip were Mr. McManus, Joseph Deyo of Gardiner; W. J. Clark, of the Farm Bureau, in charge of all fruit work; Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau; E. A. Flansburgh, state county agent leader and Dr. M. C. Bond, of the Marketing Department at the State College of Agriculture.

The group started at the Erie R. R. Pier in New York at 3 a. m., and visited the Pennsylvania Pier afterward. Several hundred cartons of all kinds are handled here each morning. A trip was taken through Washington Street Market as well as through the Wallabout Market in Brooklyn. This was followed with a trip to the Fruit and Produce auctions which take place on the piers each day. Many factors affecting the sale of local produce were studied and as soon as the committee has an opportunity to meet and develop plans they will be announced for the benefit of all fruit growers.

Benedictine Births

Births reported by the Benedictine Hospital follow:
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glass, 21 Snyder Place, a son on April 5. Dr. P. E. O'Connor was the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Senkowsky of 438 Delaware avenue a daughter on April 5. Dr. LeFevre was the attending physician.

Norway

Norway occupies the western half of the Scandinavian peninsula and has an area of about 125,000 square miles. Seventy per cent of Norway's area is barren land—mountain, moor, or glacier—uninhabitable by man. Of the entire area only 3,500 square miles are fit for agriculture. Dairy farming on co-operative basis is making great progress; butter and tinned milk are exported. Fishing is the principal occupation. There are about 2,000 miles of railways. Coastwise steamers serve all ports. The principal cities are Oslo (Christiania) the capital; Bergen, an important seaport with fishing and ship-building industry.

Reviving Old Manuscript

When writing or old manuscript has become faded and illegible it can frequently be restored by the following method. The effect on parchment is usually of a lasting nature, but fresh applications are necessary on ordinary writing paper. Lay the paper as flat as possible and dampen it evenly with clean cold water. Brush over the writing with a flat camel-hair brush dipped in a solution of sulphide of ammonia. When the writing will immediately appear plain and readable.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Mrs. A. McCannell were conducted on Sunday by the Order of Eastern Star in the Reformed Church in Ellenville. Mrs. McCannell was a well known nurse of this city and formerly of Middletown. She died suddenly at the home of her sister in Ellenville on March 30.

Shokan, April 6.—Word was received here last Sunday of the death of Mrs. Paul Everett of Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Everett had a number of friends in the village and she and her husband occasionally visited this section. Mr. Everett, a son of the late George M. Everett, was born and brought up in old Shokan. He was a cousin of Mrs. Loren Seeger of Kingston.

George F. Shady, coroner of New York county, 1905-1909, who succeeded Douglas I. McKay as head of the Aqueduct Police, which position he held for six years, died yesterday at his home in New York city. He was a son of the late Dr. George F. Shady, one of the physicians who attended General Grant and whose wife was a sister of Peter Cantine of Saugerties.

Prayer service for Mrs. Mariah Niles, widow of Ties Niles, who died on Monday, was held Tuesday evening at The Kukul Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue, and was largely attended. The Rev. Goodrich Gates, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, which Mrs. Niles attended during her stay in Kingston, officiated. On Wednesday the funeral service was held at the White Oaks Congregational Church at Williamstown, Mass., where Mrs. Niles enjoyed services as a girl, the Rev. Mr. Robinson, pastor of the church, having charge of the services. Interment was in Oak Hill cemetery, Pownall, Vt. The Rev. Mr. Gates of Kingston conducting the committal service at the grave. George Warburton, T. Montgomery, H. Davis, and F. Blanchard, relatives of the deceased, acted as pall bearers.

Dominick M. Henry, a lifelong and highly respected resident of this city, died this morning following a short illness at the home of his nephew, Walter D. Henry, at 154 Delaware avenue. He was employed by the Board of Public Works of this city and served faithfully for the past 10 years as a valuable city employee. Previous to the time spent on city projects he was a boatman on the river. He is survived by three nephews, the Rev. Leonard M. Henry, O. F. M. stationed at the Franciscan Monastery in Washington, D. C.; Walter D. Henry and John T. Henry of this city. The funeral will be held from 154 Delaware avenue on Monday, April 10, at 9:30 o'clock thence to St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock where a solemn high requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment will be made in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

WAGES FOR DAY LABORERS BACK TO SCALE OF 1896

Shokan, April 6.—The wage scale for day laborers in these parts, other than for city employees, appears to be gratifying towards that of the year 1896, at which time the current wages for grading work, laying up stone walls, etc., was 20 cents an hour, while a man and team could be hired for 35 cents an hour. Laborers thought nothing of working ten hours a day 37 years ago, so their pay amounted to not a great deal less than the amount which many men are offered in these perilous times. It is doubtful, however, if food and other commodities prices generally were as low as they are now, though work was considerably more plentiful.

Hurley P.-T. A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Hurley P.-T. A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Harder in Mt. Marion, on Saturday afternoon, April 8, at 2 o'clock. Means of transportation will be provided at the Hurley school at 1:30 p. m. for those who have no means of conveyance.

Lake Katrine Grange Events

The April committee will hold its card party at Lake Katrine Grange Hall Friday night, starting at 8:15. There will be refreshments. The regular Saturday night dances will be held on April 8, 22, 29.

Lowell Club Banquet at 8:30
The Lowell Club banquet is to be held on Friday evening of this week at the Governor Clinton Hotel will be at 8:30 instead of 7 o'clock.

A Coming Wedding
Clintondale, April 6.—Announcement has been made of the coming wedding of Miss Edna Rhurms of Poughkeepsie, to Warren Atwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Atwood, of near here. The wedding will be solemnized on Sunday, April 9, at the Washington Street M. E. Church in Poughkeepsie. The attendants will be Mr. and Mrs. C. D. King of Poughkeepsie and the bride will be given in marriage by her uncle, Milton Proal, of Poughkeepsie. A reception is being planned at the home of the uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldr, of 144 Mansion street. The groom is well known in this section and has many friends here who wish him a long and prosperous happy wedded life.

Atharhacton Club
On Wednesday afternoon the Atharhacton Club met at the home of Mrs. Stelle. Under the subject of "Character, One-act Play," the club considered "The Psychological Tendency," as given in an excellent paper by Mrs. Stelle. This was followed by the reading of "The Finger of God," by Percy Wilde, given by Mrs. Stelle. Mrs. Treadwell and Miss Nelson. A discussion followed the play. There will be a short meeting of the Atharhacton Club on April 19, at the home of Mrs. Anna Otto Fischer, when the final arranging of the program for next year on "The Drama" will be made and the annual meeting with the election of officers will occur. On April 26, the club will meet with Miss Van Hoerberg, at which time the play "Liljah, a Plantation Play" will be given by the club members.

DIED

CALLAHAN—Entered into rest Thursday, April 6, 1933. Miss Nellie Callahan, daughter of the late Thomas and Bridget Ryan Callahan of Gardiner, N. Y. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from the home of Mrs. Inez Lampman, No. 153 Pine street, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and 9:30 at St. Joseph Church, where a requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of her soul. Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

HENRY—In this city on April 6, 1933, Dominick M. Henry, beloved son of the late Michael and Elizabeth Flynn Henry, and uncle of the Rev. Leonard M. Henry, O. F. M. of Washington, D. C.; Walter D. Henry and John T. Henry of this city. Funeral from the home of his nephew, Walter D. Henry, at 154 Delaware avenue, on Monday, April 10, at 9:30 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock where a solemn high requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

McCARDLE—In this city Wednesday, April 6, 1933, Virginia, daughter of Pearl Williams McCordle and the late John McCordle.

Funeral at the residence of her parent, No. 4 Larch street, Saturday, April 8, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

Memorial

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Charles Myers, who died two years ago today, April 6, 1931.

Dear Mother, how we miss you. Since God has taken you away To live with him in Heaven Above until eternal day.

Situation On Eve Of Its Return

New York, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Highly complicated situation as New York prepared today for beer week. The state control plan has been in effect with the exception of the tax of 10 cents per gallon (about $1 barrel) which becomes effective tonight. New York city will have no local control regulations. Most other cities will.

Beer breweries are not ready to supply beer to retailers. All sales must be registered with state tax department.

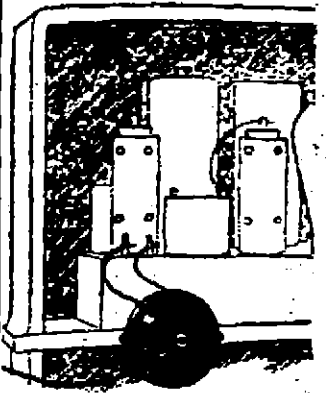

Dealers and retailers must apply for federal permits, in the absence of state control.

CLUSTER PARK GRANGERS

CELEBRATE 20TH BIRTHDAY

There was a large attendance at Grange Hall, Ulster Park, Wednesday evening for the celebration of the 20th anniversary of Ulster Grange, No. 565. An interesting program was given, under direction of the lecturer, Walter Herring, the general exercises of the evening being in charge of C. C. DuMont as master of ceremonies.

Following the invocation by the Rev. R. H. Beaumont, and singing, Raphael Klein, master of the Grange, cordially welcomed members and guests and there were responses by masters from other granges, practically all the granges in the county being represented. Mabel Story told something of the past history of the grange and Margaret Dumond included a solo by Mrs. H. P. Buchanan, with Miss Anna Warren at the piano, and a short program in charge of the lecturer, one of the numbers being a one-act comedy.

Three charter members of Ulster Grange were present for the occasion. They were William J. and Frank Van Wagoner and H. W. Osborn.

The evening concluded with a nice service of refreshments and a social hour.

HELP FOR MOTHERS ON SCHOOL LUNCH PROBLEM
One of the big problems in feeding children of school age is to provide them with nourishing lunches. The lunch must be appetizing, easily digested, and contain foods which can be carried from home.

Educators and child nutrition experts say lunch is probably the most important meal of the child's day. If he does not eat properly at this time his health will suffer, as well as his ability to learn.

To aid mothers in meeting the school lunch problem, a number of recipes and suggestions have been collected by Consumer Information Service of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, from state and federal sources. They will appear as a series in this paper. Watch for them.

Appetites have EARS!
It's a treat to hear Rice Krispies snap and crackle in the milk or cream. Children are fascinated and eat without coaxing.

Rice Krispies are nourishing. Easy to digest. Fine for the evening meal as well as breakfast. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The origin of the phrase "Be sure you're right, then go ahead" is attributed to David Crockett, one of the intrepid defenders of the Alamo, Texas, who was shot under the direction of Santa Anna March 6, 1836.

Television Wedding Is Held in Kansas City

"Rice Is Main Crop OF EASTERN WORLD"
Grain Called Second Major "Staff of Life."

Washington.—While the shifting of the world's wheat supply to spectacular—millions of bushels carried thousands of miles across great oceans—the transportation of rice, also a major "staff of life," goes on more quietly in a smaller area, it is pointed out in a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

"In China, canal boats and the backs of coolies spread the grain into regions close to its growth," says the bulletin. "In India, too, the hauls are short, and are made by bullock cart and railway. Barges float their loads down the streams of Indo-China and Siam, and sold rice trains on Siam's modern railways help in the movement toward the coast. Steamers and ocean junks carry their grain cargoes up the coast of Asia to China and Japan."

India and China In Lead.
Exclusive of China, for which country no accurate statistics are available, more than 63,000,000 tons of cleaned rice are produced annually. Toward this mighty rice bowl India contributes more than 35 per cent of the total amount. Japan contributes 14 per cent; French Indo-China, Java and Madura, and Siam follow, each with somewhat less than half of that amount. Estimates indicate that China raises about 25,000,000 tons each year, but, as rice has been a forbidden item of export from time immemorial, no one worries about statistics as long as his daily portion of rice is forthcoming.

"Rice growing is not confined to continental Asia and its adjacent islands; in Africa, Europe and the United States rice fields also sprout over many well-watered areas. With the exception of Italy, European countries find the demand greater than their production. But from the fertile fields, especially in the Po valley, comes sufficient rice to place Italy in the group of rice exporting countries."

"In the United States, mainly in Louisiana, Georgia, and the Carolinas, there is harvested annually nearly 575,000 tons of rice. About 14,000 tons of the cereal is imported, but fully nine times that amount is sent by the United States into the export market."

"In Minnesota in early autumn one can witness the traditional harvesting of wild rice by the Northwest Indians, an activity that originated countless generations before white men ever set foot on American soil. Present-day methods do not enter into the harvest. Two or three persons, usually squaw, paddle the canoes into the beds of rice which grow in the shallow waters around the edges of lakes. There they pull the heads of the rice over the side of the boat, strike them sharply, and gather the grain in the bottom of the canoe. Modern inventions have been tried, but they destroy the stalks and reduce subsequent crops, so have been abandoned."

"Contrary to the belief of some, all domestic rice is not alike. Indeed, there are some 4,000 varieties of rice in Japan."

Wet and Dry Rice.
"In general rice is classed into two groups, 'wet' and 'dry' rice. It receives these classifications from the manner in which it is grown. The 'wet' rice is grown in flooded fields, while the 'dry' variety, sometimes also called 'hill' rice, is grown in uplands where the water supply is limited. Hill tribes usually grow the dry rice in jungle clearings on the mountainsides."

"Rice cultivation entails much back-breaking labor throughout the East where most of the grain is first sprouted in nursery beds and grown there to the height of about one foot. It is then transplanted into fields which have been flooded and worked into a deep 'porridge' of oozy mud. The grain is usually harvested by hand with sickles, and eventually threshed by hand or by driving oxen and water buffaloes round and round over piles of rice heads. The husking and polishing for local consumption, too, is often done by hand or foot pounders."

"Although its use as food is lost in the mists of antiquity, rice is believed to have been utilized first in India, the land which produces far and away the largest rice crop today. As early as 2,500 B. C., a ceremony of the first planting was performed in China. The emperor, Son of Heaven, sowed the seeds of rice, the princes the lesser grains."

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by WILL L. Lindhorst

PASSING A QUARTER THROUGH A HOLE HALF ITS SIZE

Cut a hole about half the size of a quarter in the center of a sheet of paper, lay the paper on a table and place the quarter on it next to the hole. Tell the spectators that you can make the quarter pass through this opening without increasing its size. The trick is done in this way: Fold the paper in half, hold it taut and the hole is changed from a circular to a semi-circular shape. Then place the quarter between the halves of the paper and as far toward the flattened hole as possible. About a third of the quarter will appear above the rim of the paper, and to the audience it looks impossible at this stage to push the quarter farther through the hole without making the hole larger. Now all you have to do is to bend each side of the paper down and the hole will spread wide enough for the quarter to pass through. Strange to say, when the paper is flattened out, the hole is found to be the same size as when the trick started.

Tribe's New Talent

—By Pap

BILL KNICKERBOCKER

THIS CLEVELAND ROOKIE'S WORK HAS BEEN ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS OF THE INDIANS TRAINING TRIP

"As you probably know, Santa Monica has turned out some of the greatest tennis players in the world—Johnny Doan, May Sutton, Hardy, Midge Gladman, Van Ryn, Jay Cobb, etc., etc." writes Frank Fitch.

"We have another star soaring toward the zenith right now—Miss Gracie Weaver. She's strictly a Santa Monica product and already has amassed a record that is mighty impressive. Last summer she won something like 25 or 30 tournaments in California and the Pacific Northwest and then added a couple more back East.

"She and Alice Marble doubtless are California's best young players and possible (or probable) successors to Mrs. Moody.

"P. S. Orrville Mohler will 'kick in the coast league, in case you're interested. Mohler plays baseball like he did football—no waste motion. He is a great fielding shortstop and a hard hitter."

Paraphrasing what might add that Mohler comes naturally by his baseball ability, more so than his football talent. His dad was a star as "Kid" Mohler.

A Job For Jimmy

Fordham, having welcomed Jimmy Crowley to his head football coaching leadership with all due ceremony and fanfare, is not losing any time or opportunity to make the most of the new regime.

For 1934, so far, the only inter-sectional games for which Crowley will have to prepare are those with St. Mary's Tennessee, Purdue and Southern Methodist, all to be played at home.

This takes in the four main grid-iron sectors, outside of the East. For "breathers," Crowley probably will have Boston College, Michigan State, Temple and New York University.

A Breeze For Metcalfe

Ralph Metcalfe has justified every prediction made about his sprinting prowess, on the basis of his performance as a college sophomore last year as well as his speed manifest on the boards this winter.

The rangy Marquette negro, for a dash man who wasn't supposed to have much "early speed," has done pretty well in breaking or equalling four indoor world records at distances of 40 yards to 70 yards. He lost only once to the 1932 king of the indoor sprinters, Emmett Toppino of New Orleans.

Outdoors he hasn't a real rival in sight for either the 100 yard or 220 yard distances, now that Frank Wyckoff is through school and George Simpson and Eddie Tolian both retired from competition.

The only standard world record he has not equalled or bettered is Wyckoff's 100-yard mark of 9.4 seconds, and he is quite capable of touching it, if not actually shading it under favorable conditions.

THE PREAKNESS AND AMERICAN PURSES CUT

Chicago, April 6 (AP)—Purses of two of America's most famous three-year old turf specials, the Preakness and American Derby, have been trimmed from $50,000 to $25,000 this year.

The Preakness stakes prize was cut more than a month ago. The American Derby, the blue ribbon event of the Washington Park season, Chicago, was reduced yesterday as the American Turf Association opened a slashing campaign of purses.

Of the three other big three-year old events for 1933, two, the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont stakes in New York, have not been trimmed from the $50,000 figure. No announcement has been made as to the size of the Arlington classic, richest of all three-year old stakes, which is run at Arlington Park, Chicago. These close to the Arlington management say a cut will be made but will not make a guess as to how much.

Latest News from The Baseball Front

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 6 (AP)—Hank Leibler, the 21-year old collegian from Phoenix, Ariz., who has had only one year of minor league experience appears to be making a strong bid for the left field berth with the New York Giants. Leibler is about as fast as his rival, Joe Moore. He has been fielding brilliantly and hitting at a terrific clip in the spring exhibitions. He rapped out two smart singles in four times up against Chattanooga yesterday.

Bissonette or Judge? Washington, April 6 (AP)—The status of Del Bissonette with the Brooklyn Dodgers may be decided today at a conference between Manager Max Carey and Treasurer Joseph Gilleaudeau, who was to join the club here. Bissonette has been handling the first base job well in exhibitions but so has Joe Judge, who has a contract. Del was placed on the retired list last season and a 1933 contract has not been offered him so far. If he is officially signed up, the Dodgers will have to weaken their other reserve forces to get under the 23 player limit.

Yanks Pitch Well Louisville, Ky., April 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees, who are noted mostly for their slugging, have been getting some flashy pitching as well in their exhibitions against Southern Association teams. They have run up three straight shutouts and haven't been scored on in 23 innings. Three regular pitchers, Lefty Gomez, Charley Ruffing, and George Pipgras, have done the major work with the newcomers. Don Brennan, Pete Jablonowski and Jimmy Deshone pitching two innings each and allowing three hits among them.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Paltridge were callers in Newburgh Tuesday evening.

Mr. Orrille Seymour and Miss Marion Palmer were recent shoppers in Newburgh.

L. Van Kuren of Walden made his regular business trip through here Tuesday.

Local members of the "Sunshine" and "Tri-nu" Sunday school classes attended a meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Ross in Modena Monday evening.

Prisoners Well Protected by Law Before Court

Those who harbor the idea that prisoners are largely populated by the innocent, or that unfortunates who have committed no crime are frequently claimed by the executioner—such as these need only do one thing: stop seeing moving pictures and reading detective novels, and go instead to witness some real trials, says a writer in Scribner's Magazine.

Actually, the prisoner is protected by a set of safeguards many of which were devised under the theory that King David 1 is around the corner, ready to destroy our lives and liberties. The figure of justice ought to be represented not by a woman, blindfolded and holding a sword, but as a doddering cove, blind, deaf and foolish, and armed with a pop-squirt.

Her opponents, the attorneys for the defense, on the other hand, come against her supplied with all the weapons of science, as well as poison gas, and a liberal supply of mud, to sprinkle anywhere, but especially upon the reputation of the person who was so foolish as to get murdered or robbed by the prisoner.

Housewife in Revolutionary Days

A letter from a Pennsylvania husband of the Revolutionary period records that his wife "provided and attended to the preparation of baking pies and cakes, bread and meat; cut and dried apples; tended the orchard; cleaned the house; saw to the washing of clothes, all of which were smoothed by her; frequently made 20 large cheeses; sewed and knit." In addition, her admiring husband records: "She reached forth her hand to her needy neighbors and friends." She was a faithful nurse, and attended both day and night in case of illness.

When Pedestrians Ruled Pedestrians have not always been the underdogs. In England in 1886, when huge steam cars showed signs of intimidating pedestrians, parliament stepped in and passed a law requiring each vehicle to be preceded by a man walking ahead and waving a red flag. Parliament, however, did not stop with the idea that "there ought to be a law." It thought there ought to be two laws. So it passed another taxing these vehicles to extinction.

Railroads Heavy Sponsors American railroads in the past paid out more than $4,000,000 every year. This included salaries to some 1,500,000 employees, taxes, interest and similar expenses.

Smith, the insurance company and the federal land bank will get together. The federal land bank may propose to give the insurance company an $8,000 bond, paying 4 per cent, for the $8,500 mortgage. The government will guarantee payment of the mortgage. The interest over the mortgage, lower the interest rate to not more than 4 1/2 per cent, and agree not to press Smith, about $8,500,000. Some of this would be scaled down both as to principal and interest as above described; other portions of it would be used to purchase first mortgages outright on the same scaling down principle.

The larger effect of the plan will be to unfreeze billions in credits, now yielding no interest and having no market value.
